REAFFIRMATION COMMITTEE VISIT MARCH 31 - APRIL 3, 2003

RESPONSE TO THE REPORT OF THE REAFFIRMATION COMMITTEE

RESPONSE PREPARED BY
James A. Burran
President
Dalton State College

INTRODUCTION

During a two year period, from early 2001 through 2002, Dalton State College completed a comprehensive Self-Study as a part of its decennial reaffirmation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Completed in December 2002, the Self-Study was then forwarded to the Reaffirmation Committee in preparation for its visit to the DSC campus. The Committee subsequently met at DSC from March 31 through April 3, 2003.

The report of the Reaffirmation Committee contained three recommendations and thirteen suggestions. While the College has taken the suggestions under careful advisement, it has chosen not to respond to the suggestions in this Response Report. Instead, this document will concentrate exclusively upon the three recommendations issued by the Reaffirmation Committee. The content of these recommendations, together with the College's responses, are contained in the following sections.

Dalton State College appreciates the professional and collegial approach that the Reaffirmation Committee employed in conducting its review of the Self-Study and its visit to the DSC campus.

RECOMMENDATION 1

4.2.2. UNDERGRADUATE COMPLETION REQUIREMENTS

The Committee recommends that the College include at least one course from humanities/fine arts in the core curriculum of general education for all associate degree programs.

Description of the Visiting Committee's Concerns:

The Committee found that the Associate of Applied Science degree lacks the requirements of a humanities/fine arts course. Currently, general education courses required are Fundamentals of Speech, English Composition, United States History, College Algebra, and American Government. The University System of Georgia's core general education curriculum (published in the DSC Catalog) defines history as a social science. The Committee concluded that there is no required humanities/fine arts course in the core curriculum of all Associate of Applied Science and Associate of Science in Nursing degrees.

Institutional Response:

At its July 18, 2003 meeting, Dalton State College's Academic Council (curriculum committee) addressed this recommendation by changing the curricula of all AAS degrees and the ASN degree to require one 3 semester hour course in humanities or fine arts. This action was ratified by the faculty in session at its August 14, 2003 meeting. The new degree requirements became effective with the fall semester 2003 for all first-time entering students and for all former students who have been out of school two years or longer. The agenda item and the minutes of the Academic Council are included in the appendix to this section.

The following group of courses has been added to the AAS and ASN general education core by means of the curriculum changes described above:

Choose one of the following:

ENGL 1102: English Composition II (3 hours)

Presents a literature-based composition course that develops writing skills beyond the levels of proficiency required by ENGL 1101, that emphasizes interpretation and evaluation, and that incorporates a variety of more advanced research methods, including capability in the electronic resources and documentation.

OR

CINM 1101: Introduction to Film as Literature (3 hours)

Presents an introduction to film which incorporates humanistic, philosophic, and historical analyses of film from the silent period through modern times. Examines and analyzes selected films through lectures, readings, viewings, and written analyses.

OR

FNAR 1102: Fine Arts Appreciation (3 hours)

Presents an historical study of aesthetic expression through painting, sculpture, music, dance, and architecture as those forms reflect the values and the culture of the societies that produced them. Begins with instruction in the common principles governing all the arts.

Each of these courses requires ENGL 1101 as a prerequisite. This grouping is identical to the humanities/fine arts requirements of the transfer associate degrees (AA and AS) and the bachelor's degrees offered at Dalton State College.

These curriculum changes were achieved by substituting the 3 hour humanities/fine arts course in place of one 3 hour general education elective, chiefly in the social sciences, so that the AAS and ASN programs remained at their current semester hour totals. An information sheet given to all first-time entering freshmen for fall 2003, and sample catalog pages showing the curriculum changes to be included in the 2004-2005 DSC Catalog are included in the appendix to this section. These changes have already been made in the web-based version of the 2003-2004 DSC Catalog and can be viewed at www.daltonstate.edu.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Members of Academic Council

FROM: Dr. Robert Weathersby

DATE: June 16, 2003

RE: Proposal to Fix SACS Recommendation 4.2.2

As you will recall, one of the three SACS recommendations was 4.2.2, Undergraduate Completion Requirements, which read "that the college include at least one course from humanities/fine arts in the core curriculum of general education for all associate degree programs." Be sure you understand this recommendation was targeted at the ASN and all AAS majors.

Our contention that Communications 1110 was a humanities course was not accepted. Speech could stay, but then something else needed to be added.

To avoid the presumption that each major needs to add another class requirement to the total needed for graduation, we in Humanities propose the following action.

Check the current ASN major and a current AAS major. Notice that the last six hours of both degree programs offer selections only from social science electives. Cancel Sociology 1101—Introduction to Sociology—for the ASN, and require that the student choose instead one of the following: English 1102, Cinema 1101, and Fine Arts 1102. For AAS majors, simply require that 1 of the two electives come from the Humanities courses mentioned in the previous sentence. This proposal would take effect Fall, 2003, for all new, entering students; the requirement would also affect those who have been out of school for two years or longer.

This fix will add no hours to the major, and the fix will now show requirements of 9 hours in Humanities courses and 9 hours in Social Science classes rather than 6 hours in Humanities and 12 in Social Science. A small flaw appears in that we have canceled the Fine Arts 1102 classes for the next academic year, but Humanities will remedy that deficiency in some way by Fall, 2004. And keep in mind that virtually no students will be taking the new electives during Fall, 2003, since the rule would go into effect for entering students only and for those who have been out of school for two years or longer. Several students might choose one of the new electives in Spring, 2004, but the bulk of students who need the electives will be ready to take them Fall, 2004, when an additional choice or choices will be in place.

I hope this idea makes sense and that you will support it. I will be glad to answer any questions you have before or during the upcoming Academic Council meeting.

Thank you for considering this proposal.

MINUTES ACADEMIC COUNCIL JULY 18, 2003

John Hutcheson called the meeting to order at 1:00 p.m. in the Eddie Miller Room. Members present: Liz Bagley, Mike D'Itri, Cheryl Grayson, John Hutcheson, Jodi Johnson, Vince Postell, Tom Sommer, Cordia Starling, Bob Weathersby, and Tricia White.

Guest: Jim Burran

Dr. Hutcheson advised that a quorum was present.

The Minutes from the April 18, 2003, meeting were approved as circulated.

Humanities

A motion was made to approve the circulated proposal from Humanities regarding a SACS recommendation to include at least one course from humanities/fine arts in the core curriculum of general education for all associate degree programs. To correct the ASN in Nursing, SOCI 1101 will be dropped and students will choose instead one of the following: ENGL 1102, CINM 1101, or FNAR 1102. For AAS majors, one of the two electives will come from the Humanities courses previously listed for Nursing. The motion carried. (Weathersby/Sommer) Tom Sommer introduced a friendly amendment addressing the lack of six semester hours of general education electives in four AAS programs. To correct these programs the following is proposed: In Industrial Electrical and Electronics Technology the current electives will be deleted and replaced with a Humanities elective; in Law Enforcement PSYC 1101 or SOCI 1101 will be taken and the three Humanities electives will be added; in Medical Laboratory Technology the major field electives will be replaced with the three Humanities electives; and finally, in Manufacturing Technology the three Humanities electives will be added to General Education and the Major Field Option requirements will be reduced from 21 to 18 semester hours. The motion for the amendment carried. Effective Fall 2003 (Sommer/White)

Natural Science and Mathematics

A motion was made to approve the circulated proposal from Natural Sciences/Mathematics to change the prerequisite for MATH 2256 from MATH 2255 to MATH 2253 with a co-requisite of MATH 2254. The motion carried. Effective Fall 2003 (White/Weathersby)

A motion was made to approve the circulated proposal to remove the BIOL 1108 prerequisite for BIOL 1224. The motion carried. Effective Fall 2003 (White/Postell)

Technical Education

A motion was made to approve the circulated proposal changing the Certificate in Emergency Medical Technology to a Mini-Certificate, adding two new courses to the curriculum, EMST

1000 and EMST 1001 and deleting EMST 1100, EMST 1101, and EMST 1102. After discussion of course titles, it was agreed to approve the proposal with revised titles to be chosen at a later date. Also, the total program hours will be 22 which is above the norm for a mini-certificate. Dr. Sommer agreed that BIOL 1100 will be deleted from the program if the hours must be reduced. The motion carried. Effective Fall 2003 (Sommer/D'Itri)

A motion was made to approve the circulated proposal on the AAS in Paraprofessional Education. Dr. Sommer circulated a revised version with two items. Item 1. asks for the revision of the Paraprofessional Education core curriculum to comply with SACS recommendations. The motion carried. Effective with BOR approval (Sommer/D'Itri)

Item 2. requests a new course, CHDV 1115-Classroom Management, as an alternate to CHDV 1109-CDA Preparation and Assessment. CHDV 1109 will be changed from a required course to an alternate course. The motion carried. Effective with program approval. (Sommer/Weathersby)

The meeting was adjourned at 1:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

RECOMMENDATION 2

4.2.5. ACADEMIC ADVISING OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

The Committee recommends that the college ensure that the number of advisees assigned to faculty or professional staff is reasonable.

Description of the Visiting Committee's Concerns:

Students are assigned advisors based on their indicated major; however, the current system for assignment results in a disparity in the advising load among the advisors. As reported in July 2002, in divisions with a higher number of majors, such as Business and Technology and Technical Education, the average number of advisees per faculty was over 70, and several faculty members had maintained responsibility for more than 100 advisees. Strategies are being discussed to insure that students will begin to be more evenly distributed among the faculty, and in several divisions the number of advisees per faculty member has dropped to more reasonable levels. However, these strategies are still being developed and have yet to be fully implemented to address the cases where faculty members still advise more than a reasonable number of student advisees.

Institutional Response:

During May and June of 2003, the College's Office of Academic Affairs conducted a comprehensive analysis of advisee loads, using Spring Semester 2003 as the baseline.

Disproportionate loads were discovered in the Division of Social Sciences, the Division of Business Administration, and the Division of Technical Education.

In the Division of Social Sciences, one advisor, responsible for advising students in the Associate of Science in Criminal Justice and Certificate in Law Enforcement programs, had nearly twice the average number of advisees for members of that Division; this was corrected by reassigning the Criminal Justice advisees to other members of the Division's faculty. Also, the advisor responsible for students in the Social Work program had an unusually heavy load, which was adjusted by assigning half of his advisees to a new member of the Social Work faculty.

In the Division of Business Administration, students in the A.S. in Business Administration program were transferred from faculty members with excessive loads to two members of the Division of Humanities, who were relieved of their advising responsibilities to Humanities students and assigned exclusively to the Business students. This enabled a reduction in the average number of advisees assigned to members of the Business faculty. It also provided for a more nearly equalized assignment of advisees among Humanities faculty.

In the Division of Technical Education, problems lay in the program leading to the A.A.S. in General Technology, where two advisors had high numbers, and in the program leading to the Mini-Certificate in Management, where three advisors had excessive loads. As with the Business Division, these advisees could not be redistributed within the Technical Division without unduly burdening other members of the Divisional faculty, so faculty members from outside the Division who had lighter loads were assigned groups of advisees from these two programs. Students in the A.A.S. in General Technology program were reassigned to seven advisors in the Division of Humanities, and students working toward the Mini-Certificate in Management were reassigned to one advisor from the Department of Health and Physical Education and five advisors from the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics.

A summary of College-wide advisee redistribution is included in the appendix to this section. Training sessions for the new advisors were provided by appropriate members of the faculty prior to the beginning of fall semester 2003. Examples of that training correspondence are included in the appendix to this section.

All students affected by these adjustments received letters notifying them of the names, office locations, and telephone numbers of their new advisors, and students who preferred to remain with their previous advisors were allowed to do so. A sample copy of the student letter is included in the appendix to this section.

As a result of the redistribution of advising loads, the average number of advisees per advisor stands at 42, and no faculty advisor now has more than 68 advisees.

Good Morning!

As I'm sure you are aware, one of the Recommendations we received from our Self-Study involved advising loads. In an effort to correct the problem some technical advisees are being transferred to advisors in other departments. You have been chosen to have A.A.S.-General Studies advisees added to your advisement load. You will have no more than 12-13 additional advisees with this shift. The students will be notified by mail of the change and will be given your name, office number, and telephone number.

There will be an advisement training session this Wednesday, July 16 at 1:30 p.m. in Liberal Arts 206 to bring you up to speed on advising for this program and to answer any questions you may have.

Please make every effort to attend this training session. Your cooperation is appreciated.

Thanks, Deby

Mr. Benjamin T Burran 311 Nob North Drive Cohutta GA 30710

Dear Mr. Burran:

The recent reaccreditation visit to Dalton State College by representatives of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools revealed a need to rectify imbalances in the advisement loads carried by members of the College's faculty. Doing so requires reassignment of students from faculty members who have unduly large numbers of advisees to others whose loads have been lighter. As a student in the program leading to the Associate of Applied Science in Technology, General Studies, you are one of those affected by this change.

Effective August 1, 2003, your new advisor will be Ms. Lydia Postell, whose office is in Liberal Arts 234 and whose telephone is 706-272-2584. All advisors receiving new advisees because of these changes have been specially trained to familiarize them with the programs in which they will now be advising, and you may be assured that this transfer will not diminish the quality of academic advising provided to you at Dalton State College.

We hope this change will not inconvenience you in any way. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to call me at 272-4420, or e-mail me at jhutcheson@em.daltonstate.edu. I wish you every success as you continue your studies with us.

RECOMMENDATION 3

4.8.2.2. BACCALAUREATE

The Committee recommends that DSC document that all faculty teaching in associate and baccalaureate degree programs have completed at least 18 graduate semester hours in the teaching discipline and hold at least a master's degree, or hold the minimum of a master's degree with a major in the teaching discipline.

Description of the Visiting Committee's Concerns:

Reviews of faculty credentials confirm that the majority of full-time and part-time faculty teaching in the baccalaureate degree programs, with the exceptions discussed below, have at least a master's degree and 18 graduate hours in the discipline. Faculty files of three faculty in the Division of Business Administration contain written, reasonable justifications based on professional experience and contributions to the teaching discipline. The justifications are college evaluations as well as recommendations from other higher education institutions and professional affiliations. One faculty member teaching in the Bachelor of Social Work degree program also teaches Spanish courses including Spanish 1001 Elementary Spanish I, as well as Spanish 3001 and Spanish 3002 Advanced Spanish I and II. While the college has written justification in the faculty member's file relating to professional experience, the Committee feels the justification is not adequate.

Institutional Response:

The faculty member whose academic qualifications prompted this particular recommendation is Dr. David Boyle, Associate Professor of Social Work. In addition to a Ph.D. in Social Work, Dr. Boyle also has 12 graduate semester hours in Spanish and 6 graduate semester hours in Linguistics. At the time of the Reaffirmation Committee's visit, Dr. Boyle was teaching one Spanish course per semester in addition to his teaching Social Work.

On April 21, 2003, Dr. Boyle was officially notified that he would no longer teach Spanish. The fall 2003 course schedule confirms that his entire teaching load now resides in Social Work. Dr. Boyle will be permitted to teach Spanish in the future only upon satisfactory completion of 6 additional graduate semester hours in Spanish.

The April 21 letter to Dr. Boyle and copies of the appropriate sections of the fall semester 2003 class schedule are included in the appendix to this section of the report.

April 21, 2003

Dalton State College

Dear Dr. Boyle:

As you know, the SACS Visiting Committee has determined that your academic credentials in Spanish are not sufficient for you to continue teaching Spanish. Accordingly, it will be necessary for us to revise your fall semester 2003 teaching schedule so that you will be exclusively assigned to Social Work courses. Dr. Mason and Ms. Mears will cover the Spanish course you were originally assigned.

Should you wish to teach Spanish in the future, it will be necessary for you to complete an additional six graduate semester hours in Spanish. Please let me know if you wish to proceed in this direction at some point in the future.

Sincerely,

John A. Hutcheson
